MEDIA ADVISORY

Extraordinary Philanthropist to Join Scenic Hudson and Local Officials at Ribbon Cutting for RiverWalk Center

104-year-old who still kayaks in the Hudson pledged $4 million to Scenic Hudson for turning dilapidated bathhouse into new riverfront attraction

WHAT: Scenic Hudson will be joined by donors, community officials and other partners in a ribbon cutting to celebrate the transformation of a rundown Hudson River gem—the historic bathhouse at Kingsland Point Park—into a modern center for education and recreation along the Hudson in Westchester County. The event will include a walk-through of the new Kathryn W. Davis RiverWalk Center, and details will be provided about how the public will benefit from the restored facility. The renovated building will include an environmental education center. Bridge financing from The Pew Charitable Trusts has allowed Scenic Hudson to complete this important project that Kathryn Davis' generous bequest will fund.

Mrs. Davis—a Tarrytown resident and international philanthropist—will join the festivities. Also taking part will be a group of local schoolchildren participating in environmental education activities.
